NOTICE

Changes in Registration Procedures

The Parks and Recreation Department is changing its leisure class registration procedures effective July 1, 2010 for the convenience of our participants. Beginning July 1, the department will no longer offer a drop-in option for its leisure classes. This will allow us to avoid having pre-registrants attend the first session of a class only to have the class cancelled due to a lack of drop-in participation.

All classes will have a registration deadline of approximately one week before the first class session, by which time anyone who wants to participate in a class must be paid. This way everyone will know if a class is being held well in advance of the first session. This procedure represents industry standards for recreation classes.

Please note, however, that drop-in opportunities will still be offered for our camps, before and after school programs.
